Not long ago, the NBA all-star game and the trade deadline just ended. All the teams has confirmed their basic rosters and people now are discussing the most valuable player aka tMVP. The MVP is awarded to the best player in the NBA. Many players dream of winning the MVP someday. This year's MVP race is very close. According to the Kia MVP Ladder, the leader is Giannis Antetokounmpo from the Milwaukee Bucks. The Greek Freak has been putting on a show this year. Averaging a double-double this year with 27 points and 12.4 rebounds a game. Most people have their bet on the 24-year-old. The first runner up behind Giannis is James Harden from Houston Rockets. The defending MVP is continuing his hot streak from last year. This year he averages 36.5 points a game and has scored over 30 points in 26 consecutive games. In my opinion, Giannis will win the MVP this year as Bucks are currently the first seed in the East. The team record is a consideration in an MVP race. Therefore based on Giannis's personal stats and his team's record, he has a chance to become the fifth player to win the MVP that was born outside of US. The previous four players are Hakeem Olajuwon, Tim Duncan, Steve Nash and Dirk Nowitzki.

NETS Outing

Our two NETS brought a group of students to watch a documentary about the famous USA National Parks. This was a chance for students to see exactly how the US has been able to preserve a lot of its natural scenery by passing conservation laws. As a result, some of Mother Nature's most beautiful structures such as Devils Tower and the famous Carona Arch are well protected. Students were quite interested in seeing this type of film.

In the USA the greatest gift is the country park. Those parks are beautiful. They are spectacular! Hong Kong doesn't have anything like that. You can never see snow in Hong Kong. But in the country parks there are plenty of beautiful ice natural scenes. Even frozen waterfall climbing!

Eye opening! I never knew the USA had such beautiful scenery. This is the first for me to learn about it. I love sports. Country parks offer a lot of opportunity for athletic activities. There is rock climbing, mountain biking, trail running, camping, and rafting. This is very active and that's the kind of lifestyle that I like.

Just before Christmas break students had the chance to experience a British winter tradition and attend a pantomime. A very popular form of theatre, incorporating song, dance, in-jokes and audience participation.

This year students had the pleasure of watching the Disney classic Peter Pan. The story of a mischievous little boy who can fly, and his adventures on the island of Neverland with Wendy Darling and her brothers, the fairy Tinker Bell, the Lost Boys and the pirate Captain Hook. Students had a lot of fun singing along during the performance and even helped Peter Pan defeat the evil Captain Hook!

Everyone had a great time watching the show and we can not wait to see which adventure they will perform next Christmas!
